OHDSI Shoutouts!

Congratulations to Xintong Li, Anna Ostropolets, Rupa Makadia, Azza Shoaibi, Gowtham Rao, Anthony Sena, Eugenia Martinez-Hernandez, Antonella Delmestri, Katia Verhamme, Peter Rijnbeek, Talita Duarte-Salles, Marc Suchard, Patrick Ryan, George Hripcsak, Daniel Prieto-Alhambra for the study “Characterising the background incidence rates of adverse events of special interest for covid-19 vaccines in eight countries: multinational network cohort study” that was posted yesterday in The BMJ.
COVID-19 Updates Page

The Observational Health Data Sciences and Informatics (OHDSI) international community hosted a COVID-19 virtual social event on March 26-28 to inform and acknowledge decisions making in response to the current global pandemic. This work served as the foundation for global community research into characterization, population-level offset estimate and patient-level prediction questions about the disease. The workshop continues within the OHDSI SHOUTOUTS environment. Join the conversation, or tell us what working groups or studies you would like to join.

Welcome to OHDSI!

The Observational Health Data Sciences and Informatics (OHDSI) program is a multi-stakeholder, interdisciplinary collaborative to bring out the value of health data through large-scale analytics. All our solutions are open-source.

OHDSI has established an international network.

Our 2020 OHDSI Global Symposium brought together a global research community for 18 hours of open science, international collaboration and community fun. The day included research presentations from community members, panels that brought together leaders from major healthcare organizations, as well as network sessions, the annual collaborator.

Job Opportunity

Clinical Data Scientist

This position is with Research IT, which is part of Technology and Digital Solutions, Stanford Health Care. Please contact Priya Desai prd@stanford.edu if interested.

Job Description:
The Clinical Data scientist will partner with researchers and clinicians to enable effective and efficient use of data and resources available via Stanford’s Clinical Data repository (STARR: https://starr.stanford.edu/about-starr) including the Electronic Medical Records in the OMOP common data format (https://med.stanford.edu/starr-omop.html), Radiology imaging data and associated metadata, and new data types as they get integrated along with their databases and respective cohort query tools and interfaces (eg ATLAS: https://www.ohdsi.org/atlas-a-unified-interface-for-the-ohdsi-tools/, Montage:https://www.nuance.com/healthcare/diagnostics-solutions/radiology-performance-analytics/mpower-clinical-analytics.html). This individual will help researchers and clinical staff maximize their understanding, interpretation and use of these clinical and research tools for more informed and productive research, clinical trials, patient care and quality outcome projects.

Contact Priya Desai (prd@stanford.edu) for more information
We are 3 DAYS AWAY from the June 18 deadline for submissions for the 2021 Collaborator Showcase.

We are accepting submissions for posters, oral presentations and software demos.
